A SPECIAL THANKS TO OUR LAW FIRM SPONSORS

Throughout the course of the year, the IRUA holds various programs to include one-day seminars, workshops and networking events. These events are sponsored by law firms who graciously donate their space as well as refreshments. Without the support of these IRUA partners, the IRUA would not be able to present such high-quality events at such a reasonable cost. Their support is invaluable and we wish to extend our sincere thanks to each of them.

IMPORTANT NOTICE RE IRUA'S ANTI-TRUST POLICY

Please Read

All of the IRUA's educational and networking events are conducted in accordance with the IRUA’s Anti-Trust Policy.

In essence, this Policy prohibits any and all discussions involving any possible insurance market boycott, coercion &/or intimidation. Additionally, you should not initiate nor participate in any of the following discussions involving, but not limited to:

- price, profits, commissions or any other cost components and elements.
- rates or the stabilizing of rates or other terms or conditions of any products offered for sale.
- underwriting criteria with an eye towards standardizing.
- matters that would adversely affect availability of insurance or services to the public. This includes any discussion of the types or products which may be offered and sold or the states and territories in which they may be sold.
- future rate plans including actuarial projections.
- “fair” profit levels.
- developing “standards” for company operations.
- suggesting a certain credit policy.

If you see or hear of any prohibited practices in any IRUA meeting or social event, please advise an Officer of the IRUA or the Executive Director as violations of such anti-trust laws could result in exposure to investigation &/or prosecution by Federal or State authorities for you, your company and the IRUA.

Your cooperation in abiding by these restrictions is appreciated.

Guest Speaker: An Evening with P. J. O’Rourke
Speaker, Humorist & Writer

With more than a million words of trenchant journalism under his byline and more citations in The Penguin Dictionary of Humorous Quotations than any living writer, O’Rourke has established himself as America’s premier political satirist. Both TIME and The Wall Street Journal have labeled him “the funniest writer in America.” He is the best-selling author of 20 books, including Parliament of Whores, Republican Party Reptile, Holidays in Hell, Eat the Rich, Don’t Vote—It Just Encourages the Bastards, Thrown Under the Omnibus, and How the Hell Did This Happen? The Election of 2016. O’Rourke’s latest book, None of My Business: P.J. Explains Money, Baking, Debt, Equity, Assets, Liabilities, and Why He’s Not Rich and Neither Are You was published in September 2018.

Born in Toledo, Ohio, O’Rourke received a BA from Miami University and an MA in English from Johns Hopkins, where he was a Woodrow Wilson Fellow. After graduate school he worked at small newspapers in Baltimore and New York.

In the early 1970s he joined The National Lampoon, where he eventually became editor-in-chief and created (with Doug Kenney) the classic 1964 High School Yearbook Parody. Concluding in the 1980s that the real world was funnier than anything National Lampoon’s writers could make up, he became a foreign correspondent and has since covered crises and conflicts in more than 40 countries.

O’Rourke has written for such diverse publications as The Wall Street Journal, World Affairs, Car and Driver, Town & Country, Forbes, The Atlantic, and Rolling Stone, where he was the foreign-affairs desk chief for 15 years.

O’Rourke lives in rural New England, as far away from the things he writes about as he can get.

Stuart Miller
Partner
Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman & Dicker LLP

Increasingly involved in Active Shooter programs in the United States, Stu is a sought-after speaker on that subject and premises violence in general, from the workplace to schools and universities to public venues. Stu works with insurers in London and the United States to develop responsive programs that cover such events, from preventive measures and protocols through engaging with police to gather information, assess further danger and provide remedial services.

Stuart Miller oversees the firm’s National Emergency Response team, an increasingly essential component of the value-added services Wilson Elser offers its clients across all practice areas. He also is a member of Wilson Elser’s executive committee and co-chair of the national Transportation practice. Stu frequently assists in pre-suit liability investigations and determination of causation. Retained as counsel of choice by notable retailers and transportation, security and construction companies, Stu enjoys a well-earned reputation for defending high-exposure personal injury claims and leads the development of a growing “active shooter/crisis” specialization.

Stu brings the same practiced discipline and tenacity to all general liability cases, whether defending a national restaurant chain, a “big box” retailer or any one of a number of Fortune 500 companies or other prominent self-insureds that regard him as trusted counsel. Clients frequently involve him at the earliest stages of a claim, and Stu tackles each case with his trademark enthusiasm, backed by the stamina to take it to a successful conclusion. While more than capable of managing the entire litigation process, his remarkable negotiating skills frequently allow him to reach resolutions before litigation might otherwise commence. Accustomed to arriving at accident scenes at any hour of the day or night, Stu immediately engages in gathering the information and witness insights that can help clients manage investigatory demands and fortify potential future litigation defenses.

Based in the firm’s New York Metro region, Stu’s active practice encompasses extensive experience in state, federal and appellate courts in New York, New Jersey, Florida and other jurisdictions. Stu holds the designation of Special Master bestowed by the New York Appellate Division, Second Department. He handles matters through trial for national accounts and is engaged as National Counsel for an American multinational investment bank and financial services company. He also defends clients in the full range of civil litigation matters, including class actions, and provides corporate and commercial assistance to his clients in connection with real estate transactions, shareholder agreements and other types of contractual matters.

Stu is admitted to the Bar in the States of New York, New Jersey and Florida as well as the U.S. District Court, Eastern and Southern Districts of New York and U.S. District Court, District of New Jersey.

Bill O’Farrell
Chief Executive Officer
Premia Holdings Ltd

Mr. O’Farrell is the Chief Executive Officer of Premia Holdings Ltd., a Bermuda based holding company focused on providing solutions to companies looking to sell or reinsure their run-off portfolios.

Prior to joining Arch Capital Group in 2016 as Executive Vice President to form Premia, he served as Chief Reinsurance Officer of Chubb Limited (previously known as ACE Limited) for over a decade. In this role, he had global responsibility for one of the largest and most complex ceded reinsurance programs in the world, along with managing the company’s $14 billion reinsurance recoverable asset. He also served as Chairman of Brandywine Holdings, ACE’s $5 billion run-off operation. Mr. O’Farrell joined ACE in 2003 as Senior Vice President of Reinsurance Recoverables and was promoted to Chief Reinsurance Officer in October 2005.

Prior to joining ACE, he was Vice President and Legal Counsel with the Berkshire Hathaway Reinsurance Division, where he held a number of senior positions, including serving as a board level director of various operating subsidiaries.

Along with his traditional reinsurance background, he has broad capital markets experience including cat bonds and sidecars and he developed the structure and played a key role in the launch of ABR Re, an independent reinsurance company jointly sponsored by ACE and BlackRock Inc. in April 2015.

Mr. O’Farrell holds a B.S.B.A. and J.D. from Creighton University. He attended Creighton on an Army ROTC scholarship and served as a U.S. Army officer in Saudi Arabia and Kuwait during Operation Desert Storm in 1991.

S. Clifton Parks
President and CEO
AgriLogic Consulting, LLC

Clif Parks is President and CEO of AgriLogic Consulting, LLC, an economic consulting firm that supplies risk management products and services to the agricultural, financial and insurance industries. As a diversified agricultural consulting firm, the company has provided services in policy development, strategic planning, finance, information technology and management for both private and public-sector entities. Mr. Parks has extensive experience in numerous sectors of the agricultural industry that range from his family’s diversified farming operation, to working in the United States (U.S.) House of Representatives’ Committee on Agriculture, the Center of North American Studies at Texas A&M University, and finally with the AgriLogic family of companies in an array of positions. His roles with AgriLogic Consulting, LLC have spanned from analyst to executive. His roles with AgriLogic Insurance Services, LLC, previously an Approved Insurance Provider (AIP) for the Federal Crop Insurance Program, ranged from Senior Vice President of Portfolio Management and Actuarial Services to Chief Underwriting Officer. AgriLogic Insurance Services became part of Diversified Crop Insurance Services in December 2017 as a strategic partnership between Aspen Insurance Holdings and CGB Diversified Services, Inc. which is now one of the largest AIPs in the U.S. crop insurance market.

Mr. Parks’ principal focus since joining AgriLogic Consulting in 2001 has been on crop insurance program development and expert review. In this role, he has often led diverse teams of industry leading experts in the development of an array of actuarial, time series, structural econometric, simulation, and invasive species models for a broad range of applications, many of which became the underpinnings of a variety of crop and weather-based insurance programs. The list of crops covered by such programs include, but are not limited to: corn, cotton, coffee, canola, bananas, papayas, citrus, rangeland, raspberries, blackberries, apiculture, olives, rice, peanuts, mint, cabbage, soybeans and barley as well as a host of other commodities. In addition to his vast domestic experience, Mr. Parks has been responsible for developing, proposing, and evaluating several international crop insurance products in Australia, Brazil, Colombia, and Ireland. He obtained both of his degrees from Texas A&M University with a bachelor’s degree from the Agricultural Engineering department and a master’s degree from the Agricultural Economics department. His work on modeling the dispersal of invasive species appeared in the Proceedings of the Winter Simulation Conference, an internationally recognized event. Currently Mr. Parks and his staff oversee crop insurance program development and maintenance; portfolio management and risk allocation for insurance providers; as well as providing specialized economic, risk management, insurance and agricultural consulting services to a broad array of clientele.
